

The Specialist

PASSION FOR THE RIDE – BACK ON THE BIKE™

We're on the web: www.backonthebike.com

Welcome to the Showroom

White Rock Five Corners welcomed a new venture on November 10, 2007 as Patroness Bernice O'Shea opened the doors to BACK ON THE BIKE Riding Apparel Inc. The red pepper tile flooring and cloud white walls of the workshop slash showroom offers just the right amount of inspiration to designer and motorcycle enthusiast 'Berni,' as she likes to be called. Her business name, BACK ON THE BIKE, tells a heartening story. Bernice O'Shea gained experience and insight into the fashion industry in 2002. During that same year, she rode a motorcycle for the first time. Riding grew into a passion as she participated in group rides and weekend excursions. Now a marrying of Berni's talent and background in fashion design with a new enthusiasm for motorcycles opened up a whole new adventure. Berni is developing a line that is functional and fashionable for fellow motorcycle enthusiasts. Stay tuned to find out what else Berni gets up to...

March 2008

Volume 1, Issue 1

Upcoming Events:

Classic and Vintage Motorcycle Swap Meet and Show 'n Shine
South Delta Recreation Centre
April 27, 2008
See you there!

Question: What monarch trained as a mechanic to repair military vehicles?

- A) George V
- B) Edward VIII
- C) Elizabeth II

Answer in next month's issue.
Source: www.worldbook.com

"A hoopy frood always knows where his towel is". Hitchhikers Guide to the Galaxy

Everyone Needs A Towel

That one item we are always reluctant to pack in with our travel essentials. It's cumbersome and unforgiving in our limited space. It weighs a ton when wet. Yet we know we need it.

Towels - a necessity in our saddle bag for any ride or getaway!

Berni, like the rest of us, has had enough! She has designed a travel towel, moisture wicking and lightweight, that can be used as a beach towel, bath towel, sarong or however else our hearts desire.

The UVA and UVB protective fabric makes it more than just a fashion accessory.

Reply : 'UNSUBSCRIBE' To be taken off our mailing list.